“Love begins at home, and it is not how much we do, but how much love we put into the action that we do.” —Mother Teresa

Mr Rakshith K S has been actively involved in social service since 2017, he made fine contribution as educator, facilitator and organizer for the society. The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet basic and complex needs of all people, with a particular focus on those who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty and provides support and services to groups, individuals, or families that are challenged to cope with terminal, acute, or chronic illness. The current crisis caused by COVID-19 has radically changed the lives of millions of people around the world. When a situation of risk for a community or a large number of people occurs, whether it is a social or health emergency or a disaster, this made me to perform multiple functions due to the complexity and dimensions of reality that exist in society. Our actions are focused on the solution of social problems and social change, which is a very extensive area of intervention, prevention, and assistance. The coronavirus pandemic has significantly increased the urgency of addressing the social needs of the population, and social workers play a very important role in this emergency context in all areas, including education. The situation caused by COVID-19 has meant the suppression of activity at all levels of education in most countries and has forced the population to be confined to their homes. Therefore, social workers must guarantee the educational community their support, through telematic means, to ensure the social protection of school-age minors. The needs of students with social problems or in situations of risk must be responded to by carrying out prevention, evaluation, intervention, and follow-up work, in coordination with educational and community resources.
